JUNE 2014

INSWAP
International
Annual Conference
2014
AUSTRIA

Dear parents of Steiner Waldorf schools all over the world, we are glad to invite you to our next conference of INSWaP, this year held in the center of Europe in Vienna, the capital of Austria.

Our meeting will take place mainly in the Rudolf-Steiner-Schule Wien-Mauer (www.waldorf-mauer.at) situated in the south of Vienna in a former castle, with a nice courtyard and a wonderful garden around it. We will also visit another school in the countryside about 30 km from Vienna, the Rudolf Steiner Landschule Schönau (www.waldorf-schoenau.at). Its building is situated in the amazing old garden of the nearby castle and you will have the opportunity to take part at the Annual Autumn Festival on Saturday, including a special thanksgiving event initiated by the parents' council of the school there and a traditional dancing lesson for you.

We will also prepare typical Austrian food for you, Viennese coffee and of course the best cakes our Waldorf mothers have to offer. You will get a taste of Austrian classical music, and in the evening you will enjoy the atmosphere of one of our famous "heurigen", an Austrian winery.

The weekend of the conference will conclude with a guided tour by bus through the city of Vienna so that you can carry your impressions home with you.

But beside all this, you will especially benefit from our programme consisting of various interesting topics.

For your children and teenagers we will offer an appropriate programme, so you can take them with you! Kindergarten teachers and pupils from the upper grades will be at their disposal. So come and join us!

We are looking forward to seeing you all in Vienna in October!

Report of the Meeting with ECSWE European Council for Steiner-Waldorf Education

The first INSWAP meeting in Paris in June 2007 was followed the next year at Michael Hall School in England. There we were hosted by a wonderful group of parents, teachers and Christopher Clouder, the CEO of ECSWE, whose offices were located on the grounds of Michael Hall.

That year marked the beginning of a very friendly and informal “partnership”, with a representative of ECSWE present at every annual meeting of INSWAP ever since.

It must be mentioned that INSWAP had much to gain from this cooperation since ECSWE regularly accepted to publish our annual meeting report and always showed a very positive and encouraging attitude towards our growing structure. Our sincere gratitude goes out to our ECSWE friends.

A recent meeting in January 2014 between the ECSWE board and two representatives from INSWAP (Mariam Francq and Márti Domokos) was a worthwhile opportunity to clarify the terms of our future relations. The question which was immediately raised concerned the structure of INSWaP and of whom the coordinating group was composed of.

Were we representatives of our national parents’ association or did some of us take part out of pure personal motivation and interest?

The answer to this question, whether regarding the coordinating group or the participants at large, is that we come from both horizons.

From the dozen or so countries which have been represented over the years, seven have a national parents association whereas others are in the process of setting one up, and others are still debating.

This is mainly because it may not be a priority in their situations.

ECSWE’s recommendation was that a formal association with a board should be formed with the countries which do have a NPA.

The board should comprise very motivated persons who are willing to take on this task and “incarnate” our existence into reality.

Hopefully this situation will prod countries with no NPA to create one and therefore become part of the board and allow the expansion of our structure.

INSWaP will thus become an official SW organ and will gradually gain recognition in the same manner as ECSWE grew into its present structure.

We naturally agree that this process should commence sooner or later, and it is important that prior to an official founding of a registered association, the “core” persons carefully re-define our objectives and our strategies for attaining them. Since our last meeting two countries have already set up a NPA, and a few more have started to sow the seeds of one.

And ideally, every country with SW schools should have one, but it will take time.

A charter was drawn up at our meeting at Michael Hall precisely (INSWaP newsletter n.1), with an outline of our aims. Possibly this existing document should be studied carefully again so as to define our mission as clearly as possible in view of the evolution of our group since then.

So more news will follow on this subject after our next annual meeting in Vienna, October 10-12, 2014.

and Márti Domokos*

One is not enough. By the need to educate the children, the freedom to belong to a movement for the renewal of education.

How the national network of Steiner Waldorf parents in Italy was born.

From April 4th- 6th 2014, the thirteenth "Waldorf Italia" meeting took place in Rimini, organized by the Federation of Steiner Waldorf schools in Italy and dedicated especially to parents.

The primary reason for the parents' participation was first of all the pleasure of comparison with others and to know other schools with their own characteristics and own biography through the people who compose them, taking inspiration for those who are engaged in this great adventure and feel that their enthusiasm is also yours. Their problems are similar to yours and the parents could find inspiration and ideas to improve and grow, acquiring the awareness of being part of a movement that goes beyond their own reality and the neighbouring schools, which include the nation, Europe and the World! As the Chairman of the Federation Council said: "is like a homeopathic dose that taken only once a year has a relapse over time and throughout the movement". The conference dealt with the "Fairy Tale of the Green Snake and the Beautiful Lilia" by Goethe and the four constituent arts of man. These moments of study have allowed us to connect on a higher plane, inspired and helped in the work of the group to find the right questions to the common themes of our schools: the involvement of parents in the school, the quality of relationships between its various components, the relationship between ideals and their practical implementation.

Everything refers to the theme of the conference "One alone is not enough. By the need to educate the children to the freedom to belong to a movement for the renewal of education": we are a heterogeneous reality that looks for the right ways and means to create "the parents' network". A network that connects good ideas and projects, a network such as the fisherman who fishes plenty of valuable treasures for our children. Among the relations and the group work we have questioned the indispensable role of parents in our schools and how to awaken in each of them a sense of belonging to a movement for which are like the "walls of a fortress". The theme during the group work was "what are the questions from the parents" and in the second part "try to find the appropriate answers", through a process of self-education, the overcoming of sympathy and antipathy, open interest for the humanity of the other. Pursuing this way, the parents, the bridge with the outside world, become conscious of being men of culture who with the gesture to bring their children to the Waldorf School build the future, not only for them, but for all humanity.

To do this, the time has come to give life to a conscious connection between all parents. And it is in this light, that the Federation in this process and meeting has accompanied and supported the newly formed National Network of Waldorf Parents in Italy.

After the embrace of the community, warmth and strength of the Waldorf Italy, the first steps on the path to the National Network of Parents were taken. On the final day we shared with those present the path made by the Group of Foundation of the network and the method of work. It was asked of the parents present during the meeting to show their willingness to be advocates of the network project in their own schools, and they have responded with enthusiasm and agreed to participate in this fascinating challenge for a National Network of Parents to be woven in time. As an ideal continuation of the dialogue begun, and with the confidence that this new organization will be joined by the entire Waldorf movement, later we will invite the parents of locations that were not present at the Waldorf Italy to check the availability to become parent referents in their own school. All this is meant with care and love to be a journey made with engagement, understanding, trust and mutual respect in the interest of our schools and our children.

A new network of Steiner Waldorf parents in Sweden (SWaN)

Sweden hasn't had a Waldorf parents organisation since the old one dissolved some years ago (there was a disagreement about the fee, big schools felt they paid too much, withdrew their memberships, and the organisation died). In recent years, hostile government policies threatened with the closing down of the Swedish Waldorf teacher college, thereby leaving Sweden without proper Waldorf teacher education.

Many parents saw the foundation for Waldorf schools in Sweden wither away slowly but surely. After demonstrations outside the parliament, articles and petitions, the school was saved. The need for a Swedish parents' organisation became apparent, so:

On the fifth of April, a bright and sunny Saturday in Stockholm, seventeen parents from ten different Waldorf schools in Sweden met at the Kristofferskolan.

Their purpose was to form a network for Steiner Waldorf parents in Sweden.

It was a very constructive meeting. We worked through the purpose of and the organisational plan for the network. INSWaP stands as the international model for the organisation. On the national level it is called SWaN (Swedish Waldorf Parents Network). The meetings of SWaN on a national level are going to be held once a year, but locally more meetings might be held. Two local networks were also formed: Stockholm-Malardalen and South Sweden for closer cooperation.

The prime subject for the network in this first year is sharing. A lot of creative ideas came forward like: treasure chest, everyone contributes with concepts, methods used in their school, joint marketing, joint negotiations, example energy-insurance contracts. We are leaving the door open for a more formal organisational form some years ahead, if we can make this work. We don't want to make the same mistakes twice.
